B) DNA NEWS

- 1) Ancestry.com SideView – see <https://www.ancestry.com/corporate/newsroom/press-releases/ancestry-introduces-sideview-first-its-kind-technology-gives-individuals>

- * Updated ethnicity estimate for every tester
- * SideView is used to try to separate the ethnicity of your mother and your father to show you where your ethnicity came from.
- * “...Ancestry can phase a customer’s entire genome into parental sides using the DNA they share with relatives in the AncestryDNA database - their DNA matches - to provide an even greater level of detail for genomic discoveries. Grouping of matches is the first critical step in phasing DNA using SideView™ technology. SideView™ technology groups matches with a precision rate of 95% for 90% of AncestryDNA customers thanks to the size and statistical power of the AncestryDNA match network.”

- 2) East Coast Genetic Genealogy Conference (ECGGC) – April 23-24 – virtual. See <https://ecggc.org/>.

- * Schedule at https://ecggc.org/?page_id=1371
- * Register at https://ecggc.org/?page_id=884 ($150)
- * Videos available through 30 June 2022.

- 3) Kitty Cooper Slides: <https://slides.com/kittycooper>

- * She will have more or updated slide presentations online after ECGGC.

C) RANDY’S DNA WORK

- 1) AncestryDNA SideView: Will the AncestryDNA Ethnicity Estimate Ever Settle Down? By Randy Seaver on Genea-Musings.

* I can't tell which side is my mother's and which side is my father's. They both are all "Northwestern Europe" ancestry – British Isles, Germany, Scandinavia, Lowlands, etc.

2) Studying People of the British Isles: <https://peopleofthebritishisles.web.ox.ac.uk/population-genetics>

* Explains why people with a lot of British Isles ancestry have difficult to understand ethnicity.
